[Despatch Abstract.]

Nurses' Training - Admission of ex-nursing orderlies. concessions Published.

completion of three years' training.

GENERAL TO ALL:

The above categories of Nursing Orderlies will be admitted for further training without reference to their minimum general educational qualification and the period of their Military Service will be excluded in computing their age limit for purposes of admission for training as nurses.

No appointment in Government service will be guaranteed to the demobilized Nursing Orderlies on completion of their training. They should however execute the usual bond required from the training and serve the Government for a period of at least six months after passing the final qualifying examination.

The candidates will be given two chances to pass any of the examination and any candidates failing in an examination will be remanded for a further training of six months to appear for the examination for a second time.
